PLACEMENT INVITATION TO EMPLOYERS

Dear Sir/Madam,

It is my great pleasure to welcome you to the University Placement Cell of Indira Gandhi Krishi Vishwavidyalaya (IGKV) Raipur, Chhattisgarh. The University, established on 20th January, 1987 is highly reputed and well known, particularly for its emphasis on academic excellence in addition to outstanding accomplishments in research and extension activities.

IGKV is the only agricultural university in the state of Chhattisgarh and is ranked among the best agricultural universities in India. The University, under the dynamic leadership of Hon'ble Vice Chancellor, Dr S.K. Patil has made rapid strides in the domain of agricultural education, research and extension catering to the national cause of serving farming community and socio-economic development. Needless to add, the efforts of University has been very well recognized by way of plethora of awards bestowed on it consistently. I am delighted to inform the University produces perhaps, the largest number of well trained, educated and qualified graduates, post graduates, Ph.Ds, MBAs in agriculture, agricultural engineering and horticulture in the country through a wide network of 16 constituent and 15 affiliated colleges located through out the length and breadth of the state of Chhattisgarh. The University conducts various UG (B.Sc. (Agri)/(Horti.) and B.Tech (Agri.Engg.) and PG courses (M.Sc. and M.Tech.) in agriculture, agricultural engineering and allied disciplines in addition to Ph.D. Courses. With its stringent procedure, it admits the best students from all over India. Taught by an eminent and experienced faculty, the students are rigorously trained in both, theoretical and practical fields according to the world standards. They are, thus, well-equipped to handle analytical as well as quantitative issues to meet the challenges of the corporate world. Our University has a strong research, teaching and extension base and the students are groomed to meet all the present and future requirements of the private and public sectors. Without doubt, they are amongst the finest budding agriculturists in the country.

The graduates and post-graduates are well-trained and equipped to manage various jobs in development departments, academic institutions, nationalized banks, agribusiness companies and corporate sectors. Our past students occupy the top-notch technical, educational and managerial positions in various organizations around the globe. Thousands of our students are at the helm of affairs in top private and public organizations in the country and abroad.

Now, our graduates, post graduates are waiting with wings to fly over to the various prestigious companies/organizations like yours to show their worth and assist the company/organization to fly sky high.

I extend a very cordial invitation to all the potential employers like you for campus recruitment to kindly visit the university for getting acquaintance with the academic environment and meet our bright students for campus placement. You may either wish to pay us a visit, or call our students for interview at your location. Kindly intimate the date of your arrival so as to make suitable arrangements for your comfortable stay.

I look forward to an early positive response.

Thanking you in anticipation

With best regards

Yours sincerely
